Fourteen boys baseball teams will take to Cameron Field this summer when the Little League gets underway and professional supervision is being employed by League officials.

These decisions came at a meeting of Cameron Little League officers and directors last Thursday night at The Texan.

The enlarged Cameron summer baseball program will employ a supervisor, a chief unpire and one assistant.

League President Bassel Wilson said that applications will be accepted at his office. He said also that Little League will need a scorekeeper, publicity reporter and other volunteer workers this summer.

In a busy evening, the League directors approved a $2,400 budget voted to buy new bases, catcher's outfit, 21 new uniforms and bats, balls and other equipment.

About 275 boys are expected to participate in the program this summer, Wilson estimated. Little League teams will be eligible for National Little League tournament competition after a one-year probationary period.

Speeder Pursued To Rosebud At 110 M.P.H. Speeds

A midnight chase involving Cameron police and a 23 - year - old Cameron driver Saturday nearly ended in disaster at Rosebud.

Police Chief Elvin Hoskins said that Alfred Kortis, 23, of Cameron, spun his 1955 Studebaker several times on the Rosebud outskirts after leading the Cameron police chief in a race from Cameron at speeds up to 110 m.p.h.

Kortis went through a roadblock set up by the Rosebud city marshall and finally came to halt when his car, spinning out of control, but staying on its wheels, lurched to a stop in Rosebud. He suffered a gash over his eye that required seven stitches.

Chief Hoskins said Kortis entered a plea of guilty to speeding in City Court Wednesday and was fined $50. He also paid a $60 speeding fine earlier in the week at Rosebud.

Hoskins, with Deputy Sheriff Douglas Barron riding with him, observed the Kortis vehicle and another car racing on North Travis at 12th St. and set out in pursuit. The other car turned off, but Kortis raced out of the city on US 77.

Hoskins raced in pursuit in his own 1960 Pontiac, but was unable to get the Cameron man to stop. The two cars covered the distance from Cameron to Rosebud in minutes at speeds well over 100 m.p.h., Hoskins said.

When Kortis lost control of his car, it spun around on the pavement, finally striking a curb and damaging the wheels. There was no other damage.

'61 Minstrel Opens Friday At YHS

There's a jam - up, old - fashioned, black - face minstrel coming Cameron and Milam County's way Friday and Saturday nights at Yoe High School Auditorium.

It is the Cameron Lions Club '61 Minstrel, replete with "bodacious" costumes, fast patter and talented singers and instrumentalists.

Starting at 8 both Friday and Saturday nights, Interlocutor John Henderson, Jr., will try his best to keep pandemonium to a minimum among six "endmen", a 18 - voice chorus and special guest acts.

The front line of minstrel comedians will feature Cameron Lions Dr. George Bowman, Bill Bates, Herbert Nance, Richard Williams, Tom Boyd and Jimmy Wiggs.

Special effects will be presented by the "Geesenslobes" a trio of talent including Jane Ross, Marge Hoppe and Floyd Morgan.

Instrumental music will be played by another trio that features Richard Wilkerson, Milton Schiller and Joe Lee Heitmann.

And special numbers will be presented by V. J. "Vic" Hannon and Bill Marek.

Lions Club endmen -- Bones, Sambo, Rastus, Tamob, Sachmo and Amos -- have been working on comedy routines for about four weeks.

The chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Bill Crockett, has been harmonizing some old favorites for a performance of some real hand-clapping rhythm numbers.

"It's going to be lot of fun for everybody in the house both performances," one Lion observer said. "The minstrel audience always gets the fun of feeling a part of the goings-on up stage. Some of the jokes and some of the acts will dazzle at showtime more than in any rehearsal."

Club officials said that proceeds will go to Cameron civic projects such as the library and local charaties.

"The second Lions Club Minstrel in two years, it promises a full evening-s entertainment for all the family," Cameron Lions said.

Tickets can be purchased in advance from any member of the Cameron Lions Club or at the Auditorium both nights of the performances. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

Bombardment At Charleston Opens U.S. Civil War

(Ed. Note: Since the organization of the Confederate States of America early in February, the North and South have been drifting toward war.

By Robert Stonedale

CHARLESTON, South Carolina, April 13, 1861. The most horrible sounds ever to assail the ears of the American people, that of brothers seeking to slay each other, thundered across Charleston Harbor before dawn yesterday morning as Confederate military forces began a two - day bombardment that culminated in the surrender of Fort Sumter by the Federal garrison a few hours ago.

The people of Charleston remained clustered along the waterfront throughout the 34 hour battle as the huge guns rocketed fiery trains of destruction on the fort. Preparations are being made for evacuation of the Federal garrison by shop tomorrow, at which time the last vestige of Northern authority in Charleston will have been removed.

The Confederate government ordered General G. T. Beauregard to open the attack after several days of fruitless negotiations made it obvious that the Union government was resolved to bring a relief fleet into the harbor despite repeated warnings that such an attempt would be regarded as an act of war.

Earlier this week, General Beauregard demanded that Major Robert Anderson evacuate the fort before the Federal fleet could arrive. Major Anderson refused to do so, but commented unofficially that he would probably be forced to abandon the works shortly due to a lack of provisions.

Agreement Asked

The Confederate government, seeking to avoid open hostilities, then instructed General Beauregard to temper the demands and request merely that Major Anderson agree not to fire upon Confederate States forces unless they first opened fire on him.

Major Anderson replied in manly and couretous tones that he could not bind himself to such an agreement since his government might issue contrary orders. By this time the Federal fleet was outside the harbor.

President Lincoln having decided to continue to occupy a military work in Confederate territory, and President Davis having concluded the the occupation must not continue; the doom of Fort Sumter was sealed and war became a certainty.

General Beauregard informed Anderson that the bombardment would begin before dawn on the 12th. At 4:30 a. m. yesterday morning, Captain George S. James, commander of the 24 pounder battery at Fort Johnson, jerked the lanyard of one of his guns and sent an explosive shell screaming across the harbor. The thunder echoed back from the city, and within minutes the night was filled with sheets of flame and the quivering shocks of hundreds of explosions.

Sumter Returns Fire

Fort Sumpter did not reply to the Confederate fire until 7 a. m. and several gaps had been knocked in its massive walls before the first Federal gun spoke. The opening shots from Sumter's lower tier of cannon brought cheers of approval from the Confederate cannoneers who welcomed the indication that the foe would bear the test of manhood and offer honorable combat.

The Federal ships standing off Charleston Bay made no attempt to assist their comrades at anytime during the bombardment. Skulking outside the harbor, they steamed to and fro exchanging signals and keeping a safe distance between themselves and the Confederate water batteries.

By contrast their countrymen. in the fort fought manfully against tremendous odds. The Confederate batteries on Sullivan's Island wrecked many of their heavier guns early in the fight, but the Union soldiers kept up a slow fire throughtout last night.

Defenders Fight Flames

This morning, hot shot from Fort Moultrie began falling into the fort with great accuracy and by noon Sumter was wreathed in smoke and flame. The Federal fire began to die away as the handful of brave defenders turned to fight fires which had started in the barracks.

Previously, the Federals had concentrated their fire on Fort Moultrie when they found the floating battery to small a traget for their skill, and the ironclad battery at Fort Cummings too stout for the weight of their guns. Several shells struck the hospital at Fort Moultrie but fortunately none of the Confederate sick who are quartered there were injured.

EXCLUSIVE!

(Ed. Note: The following is fact. This story, attributed to Judge Ed. F. English, of Cameron, appeared in the April 23, 1925 issue of The Cameron Herald.

"Peter Donlon, an old grey headed Irishman, often during about 30 years was a familiar figure on the streets of Cameron -- when in his cups the old man was fond of boasting and bragging of his military exploits. In those days when most of the citizens had fought bravely for their country, little heed was given to the old man's proudest boast, that he had pulled the lanyard that fired the first gun on Ft. Sumter. By and by the old man was reduced to want and became an inmate of the Milam County Poor Farm.

As he was a member of the veterans, the Commander, Major James B. Moore and the Adjutant, Judge Ed F. English, began to take an interest in Peter Donlon, and decided to investigate the truth of the statement. They wrote to Charleston, South Carolina, and from the Confederate Camp they learned that Peter Donlon really was, while in Confederate service, gunner of the First South Carolina Heavy Artillery and thus verified the claim of the old Irishman.

While Judge Rufus V. King was Superintendent of the State Confederate Home, then serving as a home of old soldiers there, Judge English informed the Superintendent that the man who pulled the lanyard that fired the first gun on Ft. Sumter was coming to the Confederate Home, and in honor of the old Irishman, Peter Donlon, a military reception with highest honors was accorded him. After a few years at the Confederate Home, Donlon died and is buried in the State Cemetary in Austin."

Modernized Egg Production Here

COLLEGE STATION — According to Fred Gardner of the poultry science department at Texas A & M College, the egg is becoming modernized. With the goal of the housewife having to spend less time and energy in the preparation of egg dishes in mind, research personnel are developing new packaging ideas and new uses for eggs.

During the past ten years, researchers have come up with some amazing products. How does preparing enough scrambled eggs for the whole family in 30 seconds sound. It can be done with a recently developed scrambled egg package. All you do is add hot water, stir and you're ready to serve a plate of eggs. Maybe you don't want scrambled eggs. In that case, pop some of the new instant French toast into your toaster These are just two of the many new egg products that should be on grocer's shelves in the near future, says Gardner.

There are also many new egg products that are still in the developmental stage. For instance, pressurized cans of egg yoke, egg white or whole egg may soon be available. With these, all you do is press a button and you have whipped white, scrambled eggs or egg souffle. Or perhaps you would prefer packaged sliced hard cooked eggs, frozen egg sandwiches, pickled eggs, smoked egg dip, frozen scrambled eggs and bacon, deviled egg roll and either fried, poached or scrambled eggs as warm and serve items. There should also be available in the not too distant future.

Something you can try now is the new orange - egg drink, Gardner continues. Just add one egg either fresh or reconstituted frozen, beat until blended, chill and serve. Try it. It's a refreshing and highly nutritious drink, he concludes.

Milam 4-H Boys To Compete In District Show

K. T. Williams of Davilla exhibited and showed his prized Sears Gilt in Liberty Tuesday. Earnest Laury of Jones Prairie exhibited and showed the male for this years program.

The 195 pound duroc gilt showed by Williams at the County Show won over five other gilts. Roger Petty of Jones Prairie showed the second place gilt, followed by Kinard Williams, Dwight Cheffin and Artie Davis.

Twelve other counties will be represented at the District Schow according to E. K. Shaw, county extension agent.

In the 4-H Sears development program for swine improvement, the boys have received training in selecting, feeding, fitting, showing, and general management of swine.

Shaw indicated that the overall objective of the program is educational, whereby the 4-H club boy will learn good citizenship practices by carrying a 4-H club improvement project.

Five registered pigs will be available for free distribution to interested 4-H club members during the fall of the year.

The only requirement for eligibility is that the boy be a bonafied 4-H club member and agree to follow recommended feeding and management practices, and return a healthy pig to the program at the completion of the project.

Interested parents or 4-H club boys and girls should call by the local extension office.

Be Alert for Snakes

Watch out for snakes when in the field, or wear snake - proof boots. Don't think there are not snakes about just because of the calendar. A warm sun on a cold day often brings out the reptiles.

Look for moccasins around water and in damp places. Rattlers usually inhabit rocky or timbered country.

Always carry a snake - bite kit, to be on the safe side

County Agents Notes . . .

1961 Outlook On Local Crops Good

By J. D. Moore

Milam County Agent

Milam county crop outlook is good. First, we have the best underground moisture conditions in many years.

Crop wise, our cotton acreage will move from 52,000 acres in 1960 to around 56,861 acres in 1961, according to the local ASC office. This increase was due to acreage adjustment by the state and county ASC committees. After reviewing the 1960 cotton crop with Milam county farmers, we found that many of our farmers came out better than they had anticipated. We feel that we have some of the better cotton land in Texas, good farmers with the know how, combined with the willingness to get things done, our prospects look good.

HOW THE GRAIN PROGRAM LOOKS

We had around 52,000 acres of maize planted in 1960. We estimate around 40,000 acres for 1961. Our average county yield is tentatively set at 33½ bu per acre or 1876 lbs. Incidently, this is the second highest yield average in Central Texas, exceeded only by Williamson county.

According to the new grain program, here is a look at the average. If a farmer enters the 20 per cent acreage reduction program, he would receive about $20.10 per acre payment in money on grain. If he took the maximum 40 per cent acreage reduction, he would be paid around $24.10 per acre. These figures are tentative and subject to change.

Economy wise - one half of the above payments are negotiable and may result in immediate ready cash. This money could be spent in local trade channels. This is a part of the new administrations plans to give the farm economy a "shot" in the arm.

The corn program is similar. Milam farmers planted about 46,000 acres in 1960. It is estimated that around 35,000 acres will be planted in 1961. The county aveage yield was set at 26.3 bu per acre. Like the maize program, if a farmer takes the 20 per cent minimum reduction program, he will be paid around $16.80 per acre. If he takes the maximum 40 per cent reduction, he will receive around $20.50 per acre.

A group of 34 farmers and stockmen met in the Voc. Ag. building in Buckholts 8 p. m. Friday to hear Alex Dickie, Jr., president of the Texas Farmers Union, urge them to organize a local chapter. Most of the rural communities of the county were represented.

Dickie expressed the aims of the organization and recounted the local, state and national services of the organization. He emphasized the importance of the farmer as a consumer of the nations good and services, the advantages gained by other segments through a prosperous farm economy, and the need for better understanding and relations between farmers and consumers of farm products.

Twenty one of those present signed membership application forms and elected Dick Ellison of Baileyville as temporary chairman. Temporary community vice chairman were appointed by Ellison as follows: Buckholts, Wilburn Beckhusen; Clarkson, J. D. Crook Marak, Johnny Slavik and Sharp, Jimmy McQuary.

Robert M. Clark, Cameron, was elected as temporary secretary.

Texas Animals On Way To Ecuador

100 angora goats and 3 young bulls from Texas are enroute to Sociedad de Bienstar Social Ecuatoriana, a 200 - acre demonstration farm and 4-H Club center near Quayaquil, Ecuador as a result of efforts by the Evangelical and Reformed Church through their Heifer Project.

The animals were procured in Texas through Rev. Gerald Cobb, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, Ben Arnold and Dr. Daniel Russell, head of the Division of Sociology, A & M College, Texas. The animals were donated by the North Illinois and South Indiana Synods of the Church for the purpose of improving the strains of the Ecuadorean goats and beef cattle.

Heifer Project Inc., of which Rev Cobb is state chairman, is an interfaith non - profit organization that sends livestock and poultry to people in need in agriculturally developing countries.

Using Insect Sprays

Exercise care in using insect repellants around plastic lures and monofilament line. Some sprays will cause the lure finishes to "run" and will make monofilament line sticky and unusable.

New Use for Tin Shears

Pack a pair of small tin shears in your duffle bag next hunting trip.

They are excellent for chopping off the legs, wings, heads, etc., of any game you might be dressing.

Tax On Wages Fail To Meet Needs Of 1961 Taxpayers

Withholding tax on wages fails to keep many taxpayers paid up with Uncle Sam -- hence Form 1040-ES.

According to A. P. Andrews, Administrative Officer for Internal Revenue Service at Temple, the law requires every citizen or resident of the United States meeting the conditions described below to file a Declaration of Estimated Income Tax, Form 1040-ES and make quarterly payments in advance of filing their annual income tax return.

Taxpayers who must estimate fall into two groups. In the first group are those whose total income can reasonably be expected to consist of wages subject to withholding and not more than $200 of other icome and to exceed:

1. $10,000 in the case of a taxpayer in the special head of a household class, or a widow or widower entitled to special tax rates.

2. $5,000 for other single taxpayers.

3. $5,000 for a married individual not entitled to file a joint return.

4. $5,000 for a married individual entitled to file a joint return, where the combined income of husband and wife will exceed $10,000.

The second group consists of taxpayers whose total income can reasonably be expected to include more than $200 not subject to withholding.

IRS mails Form 1040-ES as far as is practicable to each person who may need it. Others required to file should obtain the form from any IRS office in time to file by April 17, 1961. Farmers may postpone filing their 1961 declarations until January 15, 1962.

Easy Way to Probe Shot

Use a very small sharpened screwdriver to probe shot and inbedded feathers out of your game birds.

It does the job better than a knife blade and is easy to carry with you on a hunting trip.

Restoring Bucktails

Bucktails that are discolored and matted can be restored to almost "like new" condition by holding them in a jet of steam or over a pot of vigorously boiling water.

"Seasoned" Hunting Clothes

Smoke those new - smelling hunting clothes over a camp - fire. This will prepare them for the hunting season so they won't scare off game, or get ribald comments from your fellow hunters.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Very few outboarders realize the really great importance of an anchor and anchor lines. Most boat owners regard an anchor solely as a necessary weight to keep the boat in place. They take anchors and anchor lines, that nautical term for rope, for granted.

But besides keeping your boat in place, an anchor can get you out of a peck of trouble.

Suppose you're fishing a wide expanse of open water. You see a squall building up and decide to run for shelter. But the squall hits before you reach the dock. Waves qucikly build too high to run against, or away from, without swamping.

If you have plenty of line, you ride out the blow with you anchor. The anchor, dropped from the bow will keep the boat headed into the waves and wind. You'll take a lot of spray, but you-ll ride out the blow.

Or suppose you launch your boat in the surf for an offshore run on macherel or to fish around the oil rigs. By the time you begin your return, the wind has increased and you see a half dozen lines of big breakers. You can safely negotiate the breakers by heading the boat back, out to sea, dropping the anchor, then playing out the line showly as each succeeding breaker shoves your boat closer to shore. You can withstand some mighty big breakers by keeping the boat headed into them.

There are many types of anchors. You should buy the type best suited for the kind of bottom where you do most of your boating.

A mushroom type anchor will hold where you have a solf muddy bottom.

If the bottom is rocky, then you'll need a many pronged anchor.

On a sandy bottom any of the broad fluke anchors will do the trick. These broad fluke anchors are "digging" types -- the harder the pull on the line, the deeper the anchor digs into the sand.

Scope -- the angle the anchor line makes with the bottom -- is important. With no current or wind, very little line is needed. You drop the anchor straight down and it will keep the boat in place. But the stronger the wind or current, the more line and scope you need if you are to keep the boat in position.

Scope then poses the problem of how much line to purchase. Experienced boatmen recommend getting line seven times the depth of the deepest water in which you oprate. For example, if you fish in water 20 feet deep, buy 140 feet of line. That may sound like a lot of line, but you'll find the investment a wise one when there's a strong current running.

With but little line out your anchor will dig "out" rather than dig "into" the bottom because of the steep angle and upward pull. Increasing the line decreases the angle and permits the anchor to dig down properly.

You can greatly increase the effectiveness of your anchor by using a four or five foot length of chain between the anchor and the line proper. The weight of the chain will keep the anchor shaft down.

Anchor lines should be checked periodically for weak spots. It's better to discover these weaknesses in the garage than out in the middle of some squalled - tossed bay or large lake.

If you care for it properly, manila rope will last many seasons. But if you're a bit careless about line maintenances,

If you care for it properly, manila rope will last many seasons. But if you're a bit careless about line maintenance, as are most casual outboarders, then spent a little more money and purchase nylon line. It won't rot and it requires little upkeep other than occasional washing.

There are times when anchoring could mean the possible loss of the anchor. This is true in fishing rocky ledges, coral outcroppings and around jetties. Repeated loss of anchors can run into money.

Often you can get by with a homemade anchor that costs practically nothing.

Fill old gallon paint cans with concrete. Usually you can get the concrete for nothing if you drop by some construction job near the day's end. The builders won't mind filling a can or two for you, as they have to discard the left over mix anyway. But don't show up with a couple dozen cans.

An eye bolt, sunk into the concrete is ideal to tie on to. A short length of chain, or a big iron ring, or even a twisted coat hanger, will do. Once the concrete hardens you have an acceptable anchor. If you want to make a better one, insert a couple of short lengths of scrap steel crossways through the sides of the can before adding the concrete.

Tie these can anchors to your anchor line with heavy fish cord. Then if the can wedges in the rocks and you can't free it, you can always jerk hard on the line, snap the fishing cord and break loose.

Old window sash weights make good "throwaway' anchors -es-pecially around rock fetties. Throw them right into or across the rocks. Again tie them to the anchor line with fishing cord that will break if necessary.

Anchor lines should be carefully stowed in the bow of the boat. Coil neatly so you don't have to fool with knots and snarls when you play outline.

Above all, keep your tackel box away from the line. Many an angler plug or a set of gang hooks into a pile of anchor line, only to suffer a nasty wound from the hooks when playing out the line.

It sounds ridiculous to mention it, but be sure to tie the anchor to the line -- and the line to the boat. It's most frustrating to toss over the anchor -- then discover you forgot to make it fast to the line.

And that happens more often than you think!

Eichmann Trial . . . And Justice

The trial of Adolph Eichmann, fanatic wartime Nazi charged with murdering 6 million Jews and atrocities against humanity, began Tuesday in Jerusalem.

Escaped from justice since Nazi Germany's collapse in 1945, Eichmann faces, along with the rest of the world, one of the most emotion-packed trials of history.

He is a remaining symbol of the Nazi supremacy psychosis. He is facing the final justice of mankind, vengeful of horrible genicide.

Will justice be served in the supercharged atmosphere of bullet-proof glass and trial in the homeland of thise whose group was chosen for extinction?

This question was debated last week on the television newsfeature, "The Nation's Future." Like the trial is presaged, the program carried all the relentless pace and emotion of a wrong which man conceived and sane men could hardly rectify.

Eichmann, the tool, Eichmann, the butcher, has come, almost too late, to the court of justice and public opinion. Dispensing with him will serve the moment. But will it serve the future? Or history?

In his place should be Adolph Hitler whose warped thinking put nonentities like Eichmann in a position of maniacal power. Only underlings of Eichmann's cloth could command the disgusting mission of group annihilation. Only Hitler, a suicide to escape Nurenburg justice could find such ilk to do his bidding.

Identifying Eichmann for what he is should be his justice. Banishment amidst the contempt of silence and the rebuke of lost identity should be his reward.

His only identity came through injustice. Perhaps justice will be served by taking it away.

Three jurists in Jerusalem will decide the case.

National Library Week . . .

It is timely to recognize National Library Week, April 16-22, in Cameron in view of current planning for new library facilities.

No time is better to cite Library Week. Cameron's interest has hardly been keener or broader.

The rewards of a good library are much like the iceberg. What one sees above the surface is only one-third of the drifting, icy mountain. The unseen depth lies below the sea.

Perhaps unseen is the versatility of reading. To read a book can be an adventure. It can be escape, a part of one's education, a break in the routine or a long evening well spent.

But its merits are particularly appreciated during National Library Week. Continue your high interest, Cameron, in the drive to build a new library here. Your enthusiasm and response in a library will reward yourselves and many others.

No Need Now For Last Adjournment

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — In years past, a favorite topic among legislators about this time in the session was, "When are we going to sine die?"

A sine die (final adjournment) resolution gave everyone a comfortable sense of direction. Now there s no need.

Under the new law, the regular session automatically ends after 140 days. For this session the 140th day will be May 29. But with the two - thirds gone, there's no assurance vital tasks can be completed by May 29.

Both House and Senate are now working on the tax problem, but other measures of major importance -- loan regulation, school consolidation claim their time and cause delays.

Some observers are freely predicting that the tax question this year, as in 1959, cannot be solved except in special sessions limited to that one subject.

LOAN BILL PASSED

House members passed and sent to the Senate a bill on one of the session's most difficult problems -- small loan regulation.

Rep. Criss Cole's bill would allow interest rates up to 39.8 per cent on the smallest loans. An amendment was added to allow loan companies to make a service charge of $4 every three months in addition to the interest.

Two amendments were passed with the aim of trying to prevent the market's being taken over by larger out - of - state chains. One would prevent the licensing of a loan company owned by a nonresident person or corporation. Another would prohibit any one loan firm's having more than 50 branch offices in Texas.

Another amendment would require the finance commissioner, who would be responsible for loan company licensing and regulation, to approve any charges for insurance in connection with loans.

LOAN INSURANCE RULING

Meanwhile, an attorney general's ruling gave additional direction to the effort to control total charges for small loans.

A loan company, said the opinion from Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's office, is not entitled to a commission for group insurance sold in connection with loans.

Many critics of the small loan industry have contended the loan companies have made extra and unjustified profits by serving as "agents" for the sale of credit insurance to barrowers.

Actually, according to the opinion, the creditor (loan company) is the buyer of the insurance policy, and ,as such, is not entitled to an agent's commission on the sale.

This opinion, it was felt, will help to clear up the sticky problem of keeping a lid on charges for insurance required of barrowers as security for loans.

SCHOOL CONSOLIDATION WEIGHED

Senate ran into problems over a bill designed to encourage small school districts to economize.

Under present law, if several common school districts in a county consolidate, the first result is that state aid for the combined district is less than for the several separate districts. Government research specialists, however, have long advocated more consolidation in the interest of economy, efficiency and better school programs.

Sen. Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells is sponsoring a measure providing that common districts forming a consolidated district of 1,000 pupils or more shall, for 10 years, continue to receive as much state aid as before consolidation.

Sen. Culp Krueger objected that the requirements would penalize many of the low - population counties in his district. Besides, said Krueger, he didn't believe in "paying people to economize."

SENATE STUDIES ANNEXATION

A House - passed bill setting up ground rules for city annexation is being worked on by a subcommittee of the Senate State Affairs Committee.

Rep. W. T. Dungan of McKinney is sponsor of the bill which would allow cities to ring themselves with "buffer zones" over which they could exercise control of building, health and sanitation standards. A portion of the zone could be annexed each year. Bill also provides that an annexed area not provided with municipal services in three years may "disannex" itself.

Spokesmen for the Texas Municipal League spoke in favor of the bill at committee hearing. A representative of the Texas Home Builders Association spoke against it and asked for more control over city extension of control.

70 MPH BILL PASSED

Senate passed and sent to the House a bill that would allow speed limits up to 70 miles per hour on some state highways.

Power to say which roads would have higher -- or -- lower -- speed limits would be in the hands of the State High Commissioner.

In support of the varying speed limits, Senator Wardlow Lane of Center said it was unreasonable to have the same 60 - mile - an-hour limit on new divided highways and old, narrow, twisting roads.

According to Fred Gardner of the Poultry Science Department at Texas A & M College, the egg is becoming modernized.

LITTLE RIVER PHILOSOPHER

Philosopher Claims Government Not Making It Easy To Shirk Your Responsibilities

Dear editar:

A successful business man stopped by this Johnson grass farm out here the other day and looked over and shook his head and propped his foot on an old cultivator wheel grown up in weeds in the corner of a fence and without being asked by me said, "Now I'll tell you, what you need out here is some serious planning. You got to plan your work to get a place like this organized and straightened out.'.

I thanked him and said I'd see what I could do about it, without adding that I was ahead of him and what I already saw was that I wasn't going to do anything about it.

I wouldn't say this place suits me exactly like it is, but on the other hand the amount of work it's take to change it wouldn't suit me either. I figure if I'm going to be dissatisfied a little, I'd rather be dissatisfied comfortable than worn - out.

As a matter of fact, I have done some serious planning about this farm, in fact, I'm years ahead in my planning, but I found out long ago if I did everything I planned to do, I never would have time to do the things I don't plan, and frequently they're more fun.

In this connection, I was reading a criticism of the government the other night and this man was saying the government is trying to do too much for people. "The government", he said, "is making the shirking of responsibilities easy."

I'd just like to say this is one more case of unwarranted criticism of our government. I've got more faith in the individual and anybody who has to rely on the government to help him shirf his responsibilities, just doesn't know the first thing about shirking. He's not half trying.

Why the ability to shirk your responsiblity hasn-t got anything to do with the government. People were shirking their responsibilities back in the days when the government did practically nothing when it didn't even build highways and it was every farmer's job to keep the road up in front of hs house and people were always getting stuck in front of mine.

This idea that the government can make it easy foryou to shirk your responsibilities is just another half - baked dream. Nobody can make it easy for you to shirk hard, but if you have the strength of character, you can do it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Reportable Diseases

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

A national figure whose career included a Texas chapter was General (and, of couse, later President) Zachary Taylor. He commanded the American forces that fought the first two battles of the War with Mexico and achieved success in greater battles after Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma, which were fought in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Taylor is known in history as "Old Rough and Ready" and several stories illustrate his plain and simple way, such as one which happened before his Texas campaign.

It was his practice to wander about the town in civilian clothes, usually jean trousers and a broad - brimmed palmetto hat, engaging in an unassuming way in conversation about crops, field hands and whether or not rain was needed, and it was not infrequent for a stranger to mistake him for a farmer.

It was related that while he was in command of a Southwestern post two newly graduated lieutenants from West Point arrived in their faultless uniforms at Fort Smith and encountered a roughly dressed man, whom they engaged in conversation.

"How's crops?" one of them asked, and the man replied, "Purty good," and there ensured a conversation which the youthful officers enjoyed very much, their parting words being, "Give our love to the old woman and the gals.'.

Later in the day, in full dress, these two officers reported to the office of the Commandant and found seated at the desk the "farmer." He gave no sign of recognition and then presented his wife and daughter, Betty, an attractive miss in her late teens and then in a casual tone he remarked, "These are the old woman and the gal."

After the battles of Palo Alto and Resaca de la Palma, Taylor was to confer with Commander Conner, who had charge of the fleet at the mouth of the Rio Grande.

Knowing the liking of high naval officials for pomp and show, the general decided to honor the commander by putting on his full dress uniform, so he dug down to the bottom of his trunk, brought it out and had it pressed, donned it and proceeded to the conference. ed to the conference.

Meanwhile the commander, recalling Taylor's dislike for formalities, decided to show his respect by putting on civilian clothes. When they met, there was great embarrassment on the part of each and much amusement on the part of the others present.

Taylor returned his uniform to the bottom of the trunk.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Foshea Jr. and family of Houston spent last weekend here and at Cameron with relatives.

Residents Given Right To Vote

By Cong. Bob Poage

The House has been in recess this week. Last week the constitutional amendment giving citizens of the District of Columbia the right to vote in Presidential elections was ratified by the necessary three - fourths of the States. This is being followed by a full dress effort to secure "Home Rule" for the District. All this has a very natural appeal to Americans, but I think that we should consider carefully before we are swept away by fair sounding slogans.

The District of Columbia is not a State, and in my opinion, should never be. It was deliberately created as the seat of the Federal Government in order that the government might be as free as possible from local pressures. It is true that modern transportation and communication has very largely eliminated the original benefits, but if we are to give the people of the District the privileges of citizens of the State, we should by all means put the area back in the State of Maryland from which it was taken. In this way, the people of the District would have to carry the burdens of Statehood as well as to enjoy the benefits. Today there is no State or County tax in the District and the City tax burden is far lower than in most large cities. What these people are trying to get in the District is a perferred position of privilege without responsibility.

I feel that our readiness to assume that any group of people anywhere in the world should be encouraged to set up a government or a "nation" of their own, regardless of their ability to support such a government, is the root of lots of this world's troubles.

We are today supporting the formation of dozens of so - called "nations" in Africa and elsewhere there is no historic national entity We are financing dozens of "nations" which simply cannot support the luxury of a separate government. -- Some of these "nations" have no more people than the 11th Congressional District and many of them have far less resources. I feel that we should require these people to unite into larger and more stable groups before we undertake to support their governments.

YHS Tracksters Sweep Dist. Meet

Coach Wallace Johnson's YHS track team captured the 19AA district championship last Friday, edging out the Hearne Eagles by a mere two points in district meet competition at Kyle Field on the A & M College campus.

The Yoemen garnered 127 1-8 points, two steps ahead of the Eagles 125 1-8 tallies. The Rockdale Tigers and Caldwell Hornets battled it out for the number three spot, the Tigers ending up on top with 107 1-8 points to 105. The meet host, A & M Consolidated, fell by the wayside tallying only 40 points.

Cameron aces Ed Lierman and Steve Malone paced the Yoemen to the win. Lierman was the day's high point man with 32 and Malone was second with 28.

Lierman, a six - foot, two inch senior speedster, stole first place in the 100 yard dash with a 10.2 time; first in the 120 yard high hurdles with 15.3 and first in the 180 yard low hurdles, clocking 21 seconds flat. For good measure he added a fifth place in the high jump with a five foot, two inch leap.

Malone was just a step behind Lierman in both hurdle races, finishing second with 15.4 and 21.2 times in both events. He jumped a 5'6" for first place in the high jump and added a fifth place 19'1½" lunge in the broad jump.

Johnny Kortis was the talk of the town and the main reason for Coach Johnson's ear to ear smile. The slim junior pole vaulter, who highest previous vault was 9'6", took full advantage of the good weatherand leaped himself into the event's first place with his final vault measuring 11'6". This puts him in a class with the all time great Yoe vaulters.

Senior miler, Earl Morgan, ran the best mile of his four year high school career, a second place five minutes. Amos Doskocil, sophomore competing in his first district meet earned a second place berth in the 220 yard dash and fifth in the 100 with a 10.5.

Douglas Parker ran a third place 10.4 100 yard dash for the Yoemen and was the second baton carrier in the Cameron second place 440 relay team. Roy Wohleb brought home a 4th in the 180 yard low hurdles.

Johnny Richter turned in a third position finish in the 880 and ran a leg in the mile relay that finished fifth. Other members of the mile relay were Jimmy McClaren, Roy Wholeb and Carroll Fikes. 440 relay team members lost the first place ribbon by two seconds to Caldwell. They were Fikes, Wohleb, Parker and Amos Doskocil their time was 45.9. Fikes got sixth in the 440 run also.

In field events big Bret Shuemate racked in third place shot put honors tossing the shot 41'11½" Shumate also got sixth in the discus with 115'. Bobby Griswold, stocky senior tied with 8 competitors for sixth place high jump ing honors with a five foot leap.

Rogers Hits Yoe For Two Losses

By Robert Mann

The Cameron Yoemen diamond nine built up an eight run lead against the Rogers Eagles Tuesday, faltered momentarily, regained their feet and stumbled again, allowing the enemy to tally eight times in a single inning and steal the victory from the Yoemen, their second in as many games.

Billy Bates and his crew fell by the wayside against the Eagles, 6-0 in the first baseball tilt of the season last Monday. It was a double defeat for the Yoe as they were handed another defeat, this time by an 15 - 11 count the next day by the same team.

Monday's contest saw Eagle ace hurler, Tommy Bravenec, hold the Yoemen hitless for two and 1-3 innings before James Anderle broke the ice with a hard hit single. Another single by Ernest Bayer in the fifth and one in the 7th and final frame was all the hitting the Yoemen did that day.

A 7th inning rally started when Chris Gay singled and Bayer reached first on an error, but was muffed out by fancy Eagle defensive playing.

Bravenec went the route as did losing hurler Carroll Fikes, fanning three batters while Fikes got to the same number of Eagles on strikes.

The next day bloomed bright for the Yoe as they garnered four first inning runs and another four second inning tallies before Rogers crossed the plate. It was Monday's leading Eagle batter, Martinec that brought home Rogers first tallies with a second inning homer, the first of three hit off losing hurler, Ernest Bayer.

The Yoemen cane back strong in the fourth inning, undetoured by the round tripper. Bayer got things rolling by walloping one out of the part for the Yoe and three runs came home before the Yoe were retired.

After five full innings of action the Fighting Yoemen held an 11-7 advantage with Bayer still on the mound for Cameron. Two consecutive homeruns by Jimmy Cowan and B. Harbour added the spice needed to the Eagles lineup. Eight runs crossed the plate before relief hurler Pat Dillon could retire the side.

Both teams went scoreless in the final frame. Cameron got a total of 15 hits while Rogers totaled 18.

Alley Oops Continue First Place Siege

The Alley Oops, Hot Rods, and Flintstones are engaged in a red-hot battle for first place in the Guys and Dolls Bowling League.

The Alley Oops hold down first place with 34 wins and 14 losses. The Hot Rods aren't far behind with a 32 - 16 record, and the Flintstones are rolling the pins at a 31 - 17 clip.

The Hot Rods had the most successful week of the top ranking teams by taking first in the high series (2,489) and high game (876) categories. The Alley Oops rolled a second place 2,380 series and third place 837 game. The Boo Boo's accounted for the second highest game, 840; the Flintstones rolled a third position 2,337 game.

Bob Dymke rolled the week's high individual series of 480. Albert Horelica got a 451 and Eugene Schattle, 440.

Eugene Taylor rolled a 200 high game. Albert Horelica was behind him with a 194 and Bret Shuemate with a 176.

Jr. Cinder Squad Hits Brick Wall In District Meet

The Cameron Yoemen Senior Track Team faired well enough in the meet but the Junior team fell short on luck and ended up on the bottom of the pile in the five team 19AA Junior District Meet.

Craig Wallace was Coach Wallace Johnson's bright spot. He won the 100 yard dash with an eleven seconds flat time, won the 220 yard dash with a 24 second time, broad jumped to a fifth place position and ran a leg in the Yoemen second place 440 relay team.

Hearne was the winner of the district meet, Caldwell was ½ a point behind them and Rockdale and A & M Consolidated followed in that order before the Yoemen.

Ernie Laurence of Rockdale took first place high jumping honors. Ronald McWilliams, Yoe leaper, was second and teammate Merlin Lester was third.

Hearne swept first in the 440 relay with Cameron placing second. Yoe team relay members were Wallace, Larry Plentl, McWilliams and Johnny Marek. Marek added a sixth place in the 100 yard dash and 220 yard dash to his day's achievements.

Caldwell won the 1,320 yard dash and Cameron brought home a fifth. McWilliams, James Frank Hughen Plentl and Lester carried the baton.

Mike Koranek took a fifth in the shot put and discus events. Rockdale boys won both events. McWilliams ran a sixth place 330 yard dash; Caldwell winning the event.

Yoe Baseballers Practice For District Games

Cameron High School's baseballers are hard at practice in preparation for next week's first district game in Hearne, against their Eagles.

Hearne has given mediocre performances on the diamond the past two weeks, seeing action against Conroe, Temple, Baytown and in the Bryan tournament.

The eagles sport hurler Simon Martinez as their main attraction. He held Conroe sluggers to three hits in the Bryan tournament last week. Reserve pitching rests with Marc Nigliazzo.

Game time is 4 p. m. at Hearne's high school baseball field. Eagle coach is Ken Batson.

A & M Consolidated could be the 19AA team to watch for. According to baseball coach Billy Bates, the Tigers have seen action in 16 non - district games, including two tournaments.

Edsel Jones, veteran A & M Cons. coach, is depending upon ace hurler Vic Clark to carry the Tigers through the season. Brothers Ozzie and Cyril Burke, known to Yoe fans from football season will team with Cundy Pugh in providing the team's basehits.

Rockdale, a baseball town of long renown, are expected to give an adequate, if not district - winning showing. Former basketball coach, Ernie Laurence is holding the team-s reins.

Donnie Simpson and Leon Wenzel, left - over wizzes from gridiron season, are Laurence's number one and two hurlers. Sophomore Jimmy Killeen, all - district basketballer and Ronnie and Donnie Laurence will probably supply the squad's power.

CAMERON HERALD VIEW ON SPORTS

— WITH ROBERT MANN —

Eight YHS tracksters will make an appearance at the Regional Track Meet scheduled for April 21 - 22 at Blinn College, Brenham.

Eligibility for the meet is based on the performance by the runners in their local district tract meet. To be eligible for regionals, a boy must place first or second in district meet competition.

The Yoemen sport hurdler Ed Lierman, winner of both hurdle events at Kyle Field last Friday, site of our 19AA district meet. Steve Malone finished second in both hurdle races and threw in a first place high jump.

Sophomore Amos Doskocil turned in a second place berth in the 220 yard dash for his eligibility. Roy Wohleb, Carroll Fikes and Douglas Parker earned their berths as legs in the 440 relay teams.

Earl Morgan ran a second place, five minute mile and Johnny Kortis vaulted a first place, eleven feet, six inches for his overnight rise to fame.

Coaching makes the difference. This fact is brought out predominently in the year's school athletic teams. A district championship in football, a successful basketball showing and another winning track team are sure proof of the stability of Yoe High School's coaching staff.

Cameron's tennis team gained quite a bit of recognition last Tuesday especially from the female angle.

Seldom is a young ladies' name mentioned in this column but credit is certainly due Freshmen Jolene Wied and Carol Ann Crook for their first place finish in Jr. girls's singles.

Linda Kirk and Connie Gerick brought home second place ribbons in senior tennis competition; Jane Matyastik got a third in girls singles.

With outstanding performers like these it-s no wonder that the "court sport" is increasing in popularity every years.

VOS

Ed Lierman proved that Steve Malone isn't the only Yoe student that can win "high point" trophies. Last Friday he tallied 32 points to insure the coveted award for himself.

Malone, however wasn't far behind with 28 points.

"Oh Well, You can't have a carriage without a horse; nor a track meet without a Yoemen high point man.

Don Ellis Pro Bowler Gives Sun. Program

In a special bowling exhibition at the Cameron Bowling Lanes, Don Ellis, nationally known professional bowler, showed the style that has made his one of the top bowlers in the country.

Ellis, delayed three hours by plane trouble, bowled two exhibitions against local bowlers. In the afternoon match he and Fred Howell of Rosebud bowled Tom Morris of Temple and Marlin Boyer of Rockdale. Then Ellis put on an exhibition of how to make various splits and other tricks including spinning a ball down the lane so slowly that it hit the pins and glanced off without knocking any down.

At 7:30 Ellis started the second match with Joe Humplik as his partner. They bowled Harlan Mees and Charles Hollas. The Ellis Humplik team won the match by 47 pins over the three game series. Ellis had the top game of the match with a 222.

He repeated the trick shot show after this match. Always a showman, he kept the audience amused at his bag of tricks including throwing a ball with his left hand and picking up the remaining pins with a second throw before the first ball hit.

Ellis gave a ten minute instructional talk on bowling in which he pointed out the proper method of bowling. He gave the talk at both exhibitions.

A crowd of about a hundred attended each exhibition. Part of the crowd left when the star was delayed by the plane running off the runway in Kansas City.

Later in the evening Hilliard Thomas, local bowling enthusiast rolled a 232 game.

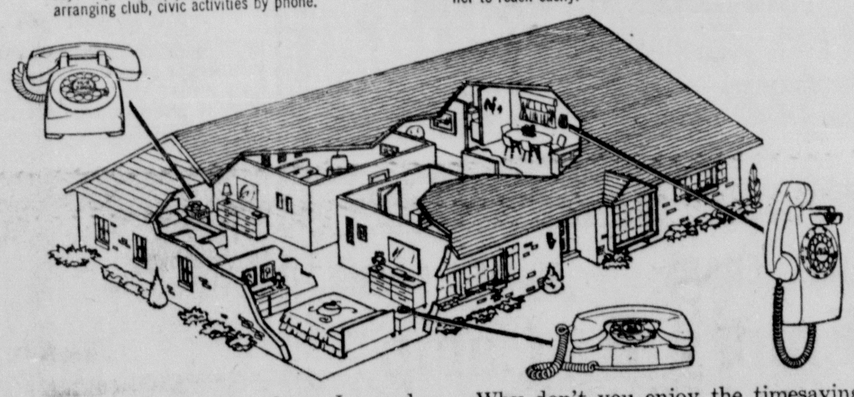
Family enjoys convenient living, more privacy with extension phones

By DON DAVIS, Telephone News Writer

"A phone in our bedroom is really convenient, because it's nice and quiet there, and I have complete privacy," says Jay Brandstetter, who spends a lot of time arranging club, civic activities by phone.

"My wall phone," says Mrs. Brandstetter, "is the handiest thing when I'm working in the kitchen. Bonnie Jay likes it, too, because it is low enough for her to reach easily."



Like many families nowadays, Jay and Lucille Brandstetter and their two daughters, Sharon and Bonnie Jay, are really on the go.

No doubt that's why they're quick to take advantage of today's modern conveniences—such as colorful extension telephones—that help them get more things done. The Brandstetters, for instance, have three phones in their seven-room house.

"I just don't see how we'd manage without extension phones," Mrs. Brandstetter says.

Why don't you enjoy the timesaving convenience, the privacy and the security of extension telephones? Just call the telephone business office or ask any telephone serviceman. Cost is low.

WIED HARDWARE

Where will you find a handsomer hardtop than this Impala Sport Sedan!

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing*—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

AND JUST ONE JET-SMOOTH RIDE WILL SHOW YOU WHY!

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

JET-SMOOTH RIDE
CHEVROLET

*Official R. L. Polk & Co. registration figures show full-sized Chevrolets outsold the second-choice make by a record-breaking margin in 1960—and Chevrolets continue to set the pace for the industry this year!
